Member Book Recommendations

The KWG Afternoon Book Group is taking a hiatus this year, and in its place will be book recommendations from members. This month's book recommendation is from Kay Meyer:

The Little Old Lady Who Broke All the Rules by Catharina Ingleman-Sundberg.

Martha Anderson is 79 and living in a Swedish home for the elderly with several of her friends, but the home has been bought and is under new management. The new owner is more concerned with making money than the happiness of the pensioners, so he cuts back on the quality of food and starts imposing a curfew. Martha enlists the help of her four friends and forms the League of Pensioners. They rebel against all the rules, the bedtime curfew and the bad food. As the pensioners become daring, they plan a cunning break out of the home and move in to a luxury hotel in Stockholm. They plan a robbery of the Stockholm Art Museum to ransom the paintings to get the money they need to start a new life. Their antics are very entertaining and surprisingly successful. The book is humorous but also points out the plight of the elderly and how they are often invisible and dismissed. The book is a fun read and the first in a series of three books with the League of Pensioners as the characters.

Have you read a book that you would like to recommend? Send a brief description for the next newsletter to me at mkwk@outlook.com!

AAUW MO

Public Policy: Impact Grant—MO Lobby Corps

Goal three of the AAUW Impact Grant awarded to AAUW MO is the formation of an AAUW MO Lobby Corps. The MO Lobby Corps will be based on the model used by AAUW's National Lobby Corps in Washington D.C. and trained by national staff. Members will travel to Jefferson City in teams of two with specific talking points about our AAUW issues. Corps members will make a commitment to be in Jefferson City on either Tuesday or Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., for the Legislative session from January through April. With a potential Lobby Corps of 18 people, an individual's commitment would be going to Jeff City two or three times during the 18 days that the legislature is in session. Volunteer now to be part of this very special group that will have one-on-one conversations with Missouri legislators. If you are interested in being a part of this important new advocacy in action group, contact Karen Francis, Public Policy Co-Chair for AAUW MO at karenbitzafrancis@yahoo.com.

Public Policy: Court Watch Training

The St. Louis Ending Violence Against Women Network (SLEVAWN) Court Watch Project recently trained AAUW volunteers to observe courtrooms where civil domestic violence cases are being heard and monitor the proceedings in an effort to research any problem patterns and issues with in the court system. The monitoring is being done in both St. Louis City and St. Louis County. This project is funded by the United States Department of Justice. The duties of a court watcher are:

- Attend a 4-hour volunteer orientation
- Sign up to monitor 1 docket a month for 6 months (more monitors could reduce this)
- Go to the courtroom on scheduled date and monitor the proceeding
- Dress appropriately for courtroom
- Follow Court Watch guidelines while in courthouse
- Submit completed forms to Court Watch coordinator

To volunteer for this program and sign up for the next training session, contact Karen Francis, Public Policy Co-Chair for AAUW MO at karenbitzafrancis@yahoo.com.

Contact Nina Balsam, Court Watch coordinator, at ninab@sbcglobal.net for more information.
